

CV For Josiah Njiru WaJoshua

Visionary Leader | Educator | Minister of the Gospel | Advocate for Excellence in Christian Training

My name is Rev. Josiah Njiru Wajoshuah — born again, seasoned leader, educator, and ordained minister. I am married and a father of four.

I have a professional background as a lecturer specializing in English and Music, shaping minds and mentoring future educators. I have taught in Teacher Training Colleges across Kenya. After a successful career in education, I retired in 2014 and transitioned into full-time ministry after completing theological training.

I am a co-founder of the Association of Pentecostal Vocational Training Institutions of Kenya (APVOTIK), where I currently serve as the National Chairman. Under my leadership, the association champions the establishment of high-quality standards in Bible schools, focusing on developing competent, grounded, and mission-ready Christian ministers.

My vision is clear: to strengthen the backbone of Christian vocational education in Kenya and beyond, ensuring
